
CLIMB IN VA - OCT. 3-5

Posted by Bob in VA. - 09/22/2003 12:26pm

Climbing Party in SW Virginia on the Blue Ridge Parkway near Meadows of Dan, VA. October 3-5. I have gotten a number of responses so far so this should be a good group!! I have plenty of room for primitive camping and I have found several "never climbed" trees in the past week. The event is FREE so email me for directions.

Hope you can make it!

Bob in VA.

bwray@tcia.net

=====

Posted by Harry W. Barnhurst - 09/23/2003 08:29am

Well Bob, you already know that I am coming but am replying to get some experience with this new site format. It sounds like a great weekend and am glad that you made it through Hurricane Isabel virtually unscathed. I have been climbing for a year now and all of my climbs, except my IBC class, have been solo climbs. I look forward to "hanging out" with other climbing enthusiasts and learning some more about treeclimbing. 10 Days and a wake up! I'll see you soon.

PS: If anyone is planning on coming and has an extra treeboat that they wouldn't mind letting me try out while at this event please let me know. As of now I do not have one but would love to try it out (thanks in advance).

Be well!!!!

=====