
RECREATIONAL TREE CLIMBING RENDEZVOUS

Posted by tengu - 04/02/2004 01:11pm

IT'S OFFICAL!!!!!!

This year there will be a large gathering of Recreational Tree Climbers coming/climbing together in the Midwest. The gathering is open to all who are interested in Recreational Tree Climbing and rumor has it that there will be climbers as far away as Japan and Taiwan with guest speakers from Tree Climbers International, Tree Climbing USA, New Tribe and others.

More information will be available soon.

mark your calendar:

The Dates are Sept.22nd thru Sept.26th

Location is in Nebraska

I'll be there.

I will be there as one of the instructors. I will be working with advanced climbers and hanging around all of the other climbers. Hopefully it will be cooler than Atlanta. Things are shaing up for the drought to be returning back to the south. We nearly had the driest March in recorded history. Bummer!!

Nebraska Fall Tree Climbing Event

Posted by Red Maple - 04/06/2004 10:52pm

I live in Lincoln, Nebraska. Where and when is this event going to be held? I'm also interesting in finding other people interested in recreational tree climbing here in my state, or the Kansas City area. My email address is rsmith@arborday.org

thanks, Robert

RECREATIONAL TREE CLIMBING RENDEZVOUS update

Posted by tengu - 04/08/2004 11:52am

Abe Winters (founder of Tree Climbing USA) and myself had another meeting about this years Recreational Tree Climbing Gathering that is to be held in Nebraska this fall. This years gathering will be divided into 2 parts, the first part (Sept. 22,23 & 24th) will be geared toward recreational tree climbing instruction for anyone interested in expanding her/his knowledge of arboral adventure. The courses that will be offered are as follow:

- 1)Intensive Basic Course - all you need to know about how to get yourself aloft safely into a tree
 - 2)Beyond the Basics - S.R.T. and advance rigging for recreational tree climbing
 - 3)Instructors Course - Become a qualified T.C.I. Instructor and help teach others the joy of recreational tree climbing
- The latter part of the Rendezvous (Sept. 24,25 & 26th) will be for the experienced technical tree climber this will be a kind of "Whos Who in the World of Recreational Tree Climbing"

If any of you experienced recreational tree climbers have any request of what you'd like to see at the gathering please contact me via u2u or post a reply here at the message board.

MARK YOUR CALENDARS FOR SEPT. 22-26TH 2004

More information will be available soon.

Adventure-UP!!
