
Naked Tree Huggers? Only in California

Posted by TreeTramp - 03/20/2007 06:17am

OK I know they should not destroy this old Oak Grove for some more buildings but the "artistree" is worth a gander.

This really put some meaning to the phase Bark Bite.

"The people up in those trees are not crazy, they are doing something beautiful and important," Gescheidt said.

Jess Walsh has been living in one of the oaks since December, and she was in no hurry to put her clothes back on.

I'm having too much fun," she said. "This is liberating. I feel totally free. I recommend that everyone try getting naked in a big tree sometime."

Dan, You should give try and write a report about "Bark Bite"
