...Congratulations to NickfromWi and MarkF, our week 5 gear rater contest winners.

Many thanks to all of you who are helping to make our Gear Rater a valuable resource by posting your thoughts on the gear you use. We hope you'll continue to write reviews and read those written by others! As always, keep sending us your ideas about what gear you would like us to put up. We have received many good suggestions and have added almost every item to our site.

Thanks again also to SherrillTree for providing the gift certificates to our winners! We appreciate your support.

Patty

Hey Nick,

I know you probably have more than enough tree toys, and this being the season it is, i recommend to take your winnings and purchasing the children's book "The Talking Tree" and donating it to a public school near you.
Item; #16214

touch others the way trees have touched you

I've was going to take tim up on that idea...but then I realized I didn't have the latest sherrill, and the book wasn't in the 06' catalog. I've ordered the recent catalog, then we'll try this again. I might buy a carabiner while I'm at it!

Okay, they are looking, but there is a chance that they don't have the book. So barring that, here's what I did. I went through the book and found a few items that I might not normally buy, but since the money is free...hey what the heck.

What do y'all think I should get. The choices are (in order of page number in the '07 catalog)...

1. pg 15 #30767, Hip-It Throwline bag. $36.
2. pg 19 #31171, ART Double Snapper $51. I rarely get my ropeguide stuck, but it's happened at very inopportune times and TWICE when climbing with Bob Crook!!!
3. pg 19 #30762, Telescoping rope grabber $41. Karina says it'd be silly to carry that thing around for the few times when you'd use it.
4. pg 27 #31311, treeMOTION saddle $489. $25 off doesn't seem like that big a deal anymore!
5. pg 42 #30717, Mighty Mouse 'biner $27. My favorite carabiner of all time. Might as well get another for free.
6. pg 110 #31553, Halo sweat-moving head band $13. Hey, this IS southern CA. Might be worth a shot
7. pg 135 #31654, Wood decaying fungus book $28. I've been yearning to know more about fungus lately. This'll help.

What would you buy? Or better yet...what might you have been THINKING about buying and you want ME to buy so I can tell you how it is.

I guess I didn't make this part clear...but I am only going to get ONE of the items. I'm trying to decide which is the BEST to get.
