
Georgia's Hidden Treasures: Tree Adventures

Posted by wildrice - 06/24/2008 10:06pm

Hi. WSB-TV in Atlanta is planning another "Georgia's Hidden Treasures" show that will feature Panola Mountain and George L. Smith state parks. It will run this Weds. (tomorrow) night at 8 p.m.

Here is the link:

<http://www.wsbtv.com/programming/index.html> (this one has a link to our new Get Outdoors Ga website)

or

<http://www.wsbtv.com/programming/16629900/detail.html#>

Action News Primetime with John Pruitt: Georgia's Hidden Treasures

ATLANTA -- Channel 2 presents an all new Action News Primetime with John Pruitt: Georgia's Hidden Treasures. Pruitt, along with Fred Blankenship and Jovita Moore, takes viewers on amazing adventures right here in Georgia.

First, Pruitt explores the beauty and history of West Georgia. He takes you on one of the longest tree top tours in the world. You'll see the exciting bridges and zip line across the Snake Creek. He also shows you the area known as Banning Mills that sits beside the Snake Creek.

Channel 2's Fred Blankenship discovers another interesting "tree" experience at Panola Mountain. Panola Mountain is designated as a national landmark; the same status awarded the Grand Canyon. Blankenship reveals where you can climb a 90 foot Southern Red Oak and have family adventures.

Jovita Moore, Channel 2's 5 p.m. anchor, takes you to a 412-acre black lake that will take your breath away. She rides on a boat tour where you literally feel like you are floating back in primeval times.

"Reporting on Georgia's natural wonders is my idea of the perfect assignment," said Pruitt. "It's a joy to travel to these scenic areas not only to capture their beauty for our viewers, but also to share the rich history that surrounds Georgia's hidden treasures."

WHAT: Channel 2 Action News Primetime with John Pruitt: Georgia's Hidden Treasures

WHO: Host: John Pruitt

WHEN: June 25, 2008, 8:00 p.m.

WHERE: WSB-TV, Channel 2

=====